

How You Can Support Orange Sky

Orange Sky is a not-for-profit organisation providing free laundry and shower services for people experiencing homelessness.

We have a simple formula: providing a safe and supportive place where everyday Australians who are experiencing homelessness and hardship can access a regular laundry and shower service, and connection through non-judgmental conversation.

We need your help to ensure our vans are working, the washing machines and dryers are spinning, and the showers are running, so our volunteers can show up every day for the growing number of people going through tough times.

There are load of ways you can help!
