

Orange Sky aims to positively connect communities through a regular laundry and shower service for some of the 122,000 Aussies experiencing homelessness and hardship. The focus is on genuine, non-judgemental conversation and connection.

NIC & LUCAS

started Orange Sky in 2014, at the age of 20 – installing two washing machines and dryers in the back of their old van. They named it Sudsy and the rest is Orange Sky history.

 69 services

 45 communities

 3.8K+ volunteers

 4mill+ KGs of washing

Gemai's story

Gemai is a hardworking mum who is trying to make life better for her family. With five kids at home and no washing machine, access to Orange Sky's service each week helps make ends meet for her family.

"I just appreciate being able to have clean clothes, clean bedding, and have that expense saved for bread and milk when I'm running out of food and I can just get the basics."

COMMUNITY RECOVERY

when people unexpectedly become homeless... We're there after natural disasters like cyclones, floods and bushfires strike, to help people experiencing temporary homelessness.

INNOVATION

is in our DNA. We were the world's first mobile laundry service, and we're always working to find new ways to support people in need, from solar powered vans to our very own Waru Dryer.
